The C-House elevator unit built over 50 years ago was in need of repair and updating. Working with ConAgra, Younglove updated the process flow and renovated the facility.

Two old bucket elevators in old concrete leg wells were abandoned, and new legs for receiving and reclaim were moved outside.

All of this allowed for the general improvements desperately needed up top, as the concrete headhouses and the entire roof needed to be replaced. Crews sliced, diced, rigged, lowered, and disposed of approximately 500 tons of reinforced concrete. A new roof and new distribution equipment brought this facility back into use.
